

Through the Doors of Support

We may enter
Broken
Weak
And unsure of ourselves

We may enter
With reservations
And fear
Afraid to share our pain

We may enter
And not hear
What we thought we would
Not that it's bad
Just different
From what we've known

We may enter
Sad
And leave happy
As we are listened to
Heard and understood

We may enter
Because we have
Nowhere else to go

We continue to enter
Through the doors of support
Because someone cares
That we do.

Annual Report 2009–2010

Dear Friends,

On the cover of this year's Annual Report, we have shared a piece written by one of our clients. Her words speak to the support that she finds at Blackburn Center. She describes the agency's services as a door to support – a place where she knows someone will care.

These words also reflect the relationship we have with the Westmoreland County community. We have been able to continue Blackburn Center's work for nearly 35 years because members of this community have opened doors to support, and have time and again shown that they care about the agency's commitment to excellent services for victims of domestic and sexual violence, and our mission to end this violence.

As long as there are individuals in this community whose lives have been turned upside down by domestic or sexual violence, we will continue these services. AND, until this violence ends, we will be unwavering in our call to action to the community to hold perpetrators accountable and to combat the social norms that perpetuate this violence.

Please plan to join us as we convene community conversations about the underlying, root causes of gender violence and the actions that will be needed to address these issues. This work will take courage and commitment, and a sense of urgency. We're looking forward to opening this door to dialogue! To receive more information about these conversations, please call us at 724-837-9540, extension 115.

And, as you read through this Annual Report, know that our work is the work of the community ... that what we accomplish happens only because of the generous contributions of individuals, churches, civic organizations, businesses, and foundations. You make our mission come alive in Westmoreland County.

Sincerely yours,

Linda Polinsky
President, Board of Directors

Ann M. Emmerling
Executive Director

CHALLENGE THE POWER.
DEMAND CHANGE.

Domestic and sexual violence are rooted in an imbalance of power between men and women. Our society accepts violence against women as normal and inevitable. For Blackburn Center to fulfill its mission to end domestic and sexual violence, we must challenge this imbalance of power that supports the oppression of women.

Support from the community, through contributions and governmental support, is invested in services for victims of domestic and sexual violence, and education programs for the community.
